Foreword

Welcome to the latest issue of Jurnal Riset Gizi (JRG). In this edition, we present a collection of scientific articles covering current topics in public health nutrition, clinical nutrition, institutional nutrition, dietetics, sports nutrition, as well as nutrition policies and programs. We believe that scientific publications play an important role in strengthening the evidence base, expanding academic knowledge, and contributing to the improvement of public health and nutrition.

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to the authors, reviewers, and all parties who have contributed to the editorial and peer-review processes. JRG also collaborates with the Asosiasi Institusi Pendidikan Vokasi Gizi Indonesia (AIPVOGI) and the Persatuan Ahli Gizi Indonesia (PERSAGI) in strengthening scientific networks and advancing the nutrition profession.

We hope that the articles presented in this issue will provide valuable insights, practical benefits, and academic references for the advancement of nutrition science and practice. The support and participation of our readers are highly appreciated and remain essential to the sustainability of JRG as a platform for scientific dissemination
